APSEC 2015 is an international conference focusing on topics related to structural engineering and construction. The 1st APSEC conference was held in 1989 in the historical city of Malacca. Since then the conference has been held regularly at three-year intervals and had attracted many researchers, academicians and engineers from local and abroad. The previous 8th APSEC 2012 was jointly organised with Institut Teknologi Surabaya (ITS), Indonesia and was held at Surabaya, Indonesia. APSEC 2015 is organised to provide platform for exchanging ideas on latest advances in research and innovations, as well as state-of-the-art information in the fields of structural engineering and construction between scientists and engineers from both the academia and industries.

ACEC 2015 under AUN/SEED-Net is a platform to share the most updated technology and research on common regional issues in order to contribute to the ASEAN community and to draw support from the industrial and the governmental sectors. The regional conference allows opportunities for AUN/SEED-Net members to publicize their research work, exchange ideas and discuss future collaborations and activities related to the civil engineering field. The organisation of the conference is not only to enhance the academic network among the ASEAN universities, but also to strengthen the relationship between ASEAN and Japanese professors of each university. This year, the 8th ASEAN Civil Engineering Conference (ACEC) will be organised at Universiti Teknologi Malaysia, Malaysia on 3 - 5 November 2015, held jointly with APSEC 2015.

The Organizing Committee invites you to present paper(s) and/or participate in the Technical Session of the Conference. The success and achievement gained in the previous APSEC and ACEC conferences have been remarkable and we are confident that this APSEC & ACEC 2015 will bring significant benefits to the participants. Your support and participation will be much appreciated. Please bring along your colleagues and friends to join us. Visit to scenic, cultural and interesting places in Kuala Lumpur during the week of the conference will be also be organised. The Organizing Committee looks forward to seeing you at APSEC & ACEC 2015 in Kuala Lumpur.

Date: 3 November – 5 November 2015
Venue: Universiti Teknologi Malaysia, Kuala Lumpur Campus, Malaysia
